VOL. 58 — No. 42

Observations..

By the Editor

What would a park, sand beach and pier mean to Bay St. Louis? We think it would be the means of bringing many people here to spend the week-end. . . it would bring money into our city that is presently going to other places. . . they have the park, beaches, and public piers to attract those seeking relaxation from a heavy week in the city. . . is talking or writing about it going to make it a reality? . . . No. . . leadership and cooperation will do the job. . . where should this leadership come from? The Chamber of Commerce. . . this is a civic matter. . . this matter has been talked and written about for many, many years and it is about time that some definite action was taken. . . we are not in the real estate business, and we are not going to suggest a location, but a business man suggested a location to us sometime ago which would cover the situation beautifully—grounds for a large park—a good pier location and ample room adjoining for a real strip of sand beach. . . and while on the subject remember the Chamber of Commerce is a County affair and should not overlook Waveland. . . They have a pier, but need a sand beach and park. . . someone is going to have blood on their hands, and they will be sorry that they allowed petty political bickering to be the cause of the death of some innocent person. . . the beach road between Sears avenue and Gulfside Association in Waveland is a trap. . . we have had two cars overturn at this particular spot. . . the last one being driven by the father of Sheriff B. D. Johnson, a man 70 years of age. . . he was painfully injured, and it could have been far more serious. . . it is time for the Board of Supervisors and the Town Council of Waveland to get together and take care of this situation. . . parrying for political position, should not enter into this matter. . . people who are not interested in political affairs are the ones who will be hurt. . . both physically and financially if this roadway through the town, and particularly this spot, is not repaired. . . just what would happen to Waveland if this road went out. . . we have been spared from the ravages of a storm for the past 2 years. . . there may be a recurrence of September 19, 1947, some day. . . better get it fixed, we all need it. . . the one word which every person hates is "TAXES" and do, we hate it more, when we feel we are being given a little overdone, in the matter of unequal assessments. . . no one objects to paying his just proportion of taxes, but the idea that his neighbors property of probably equal value is assessed for far less does not sit well. . . the only cure we see is to have the lot and block system. . . it will cost a little, but will pay off in the end with everyone carrying their just proportion of taxes and both city and county would have much added revenue, and the only ones who would howl, would be those who have escaped paying their proportion of taxes heretofore. . . we wish to extend a word of congratulation to Most Reverend Bishop Richard O. Gerow of Natchez on the occasion of his silver jubilee. . . he is an outstanding clergyman. . . Mississippian and American. . . may his years of service be many more. . . the Bay Waveland Yacht Club is nearing completion. . . the bonds or notes if you will are in the mail. . . pleasant, affable, Secretary J. Kelleher has lifted a burden from his shoulders with this job completed. . . Bishop Leo F. Fahey is still at Hotel Dieu in New Orleans. . . reports from his bedside are encouraging and he is considered much improved. . . probably won't be long until he is back here for a convalescing period.

Saint Stanislaus Band Sponsored By Club

A meeting of parents and members and other interested parties, was called by Mrs. Joseph Kern at her home Wednesday, for the purpose of organizing a club to sponsor the St. Stanislaus band. . . For the past 18 years, Brother Romuald's bands have been of excellent caliber, winning many awards for the school. He has worked alone, and he feels the need of some such organization to help him. . . Mrs. Kern was asked to act as temporary chairman of the group, a nominating committee will be named, and next week, at a called meeting, officers will be elected and a table of organizations will be formulated. . . Brother Romuald will act as ex-officio chairman at all times. . . These parents plan to act as a mother's club does in the school, and sponsor whatever activities in which the band may participate. . . The date of the next meeting will be announced in this paper.

CONVENTION

Awards will be presented to the St. Stanislaus band at the convention of the National Catholic Music Teachers Association, which will be held at the University of Notre Dame, Ind., Nov. 1-5. . . The band will be represented by Brother Romuald and Joe Ford.

Salute The Coast In Holiday Story

The November edition of Holiday Magazine features an eight page panorama saluting Mississippi's Gulf Coast.

There are some 17 pictures in the article which brings in a great part of the Mississippi Sound—from Mobile Bay to the Bay of St. Louis with stops in between at Pascagoula, Ocean Springs, Biloxi, Gulfport and Pass Christian.

The 5000-word story is called "The Seven Sisters" and is an outline of the region's background.

The magazine heads its article: "The seven towns along the crescent of the Mississippi Sound are quiet today after two hundred years of brawling history under seven flags. Indians, Frenchmen, pirates and patriots have given way to the fishermen, boatbuilders and tourists—leaving behind a thousand legends."

Roy Craft Arrested Twice He Is Charged With Illegal Operations—Now Under Bond

Roy Craft, of the Beach Club Bar, was arrested Wednesday, Oct. 19, by Chief of Police Alcine Saucier for taking bets on horse races. Assistant Saucier was special officer Pat Garcia. Craft is to be tried Monday, Oct. 24, at 10 a. m.

This was the second time in two days that Craft was arrested for the same offense and taken to City Hall. After the first arrest Tuesday, he was placed under a $100 bond furnished by W. R. "Jack" Laddner. Upon this occasion, Craft told Mayor Warren Carver and Commissioners J. Cyril Glover and Sylvan J. Laddner that he would furnish information if they wanted it, but that he was going to open his place for bets the next day. The commissioners told Craft that he didn't have to volunteer information as they had someone to furnish it for them.

Upon being arrested the second time, Craft was told by Warren Carver that since he was already under a $100 bond, there would be a $25 bond added. The total was $125 for both arrests. Horace Farr furnished the second bond.

Chief of Police Saucier said that when he arrested Craft, all sheets were stripped from the board. These and all the betting sheets were taken, along with Craft, to the City Hall.

Bay-Waveland Garden Members Propose Park Site

A roadside park will be the next project undertaken by the Bay-Waveland Garden Club. Mrs. J. R. Rollins, president, announced at the meeting held Thursday Oct. 13 at the home of Mrs. Felix Bruen. This project was brought about through the efforts of Mrs. Ben Hille, beautification committee chairman.

The Mississippi park commission will give the park, to be located about fifteen miles out of Bay St. Louis on Highway 90 between Lombard's Inn and Pearlinton, to Hancock county. Construction will begin within 90 days. Mrs. Hille stated.

An even dozen parks, which include concrete tables and benches, open fireplace and other facilities, were authorized by the State Highway department. Each roadside stop is at least an acre in size, and offers safe entrance and exit driveways to and from connecting highways.

Development of such parks grew from garden clubs and others interested in roadside beauty. It was undertaken by the Highway Department to aid travelers. These parks will be used as meeting grounds for local groups, rest stops for tourists and picnic grounds.

The Highway Department will bear all expenses, and the only thing to be furnished by the local Garden Club will be the plaque for the park. The grounds will be state maintained.

The proposed project for a City park in Bay St. Louis was voted negative by the members of the Garden Club. It was decided at this meeting to sponsor a Christmas party for the veterans of the Gulfport hospital on Dec. 25 at which time a committee from the local group will take over gifts and refreshments and entertainment for the veterans.

Bay Tigers Edge O. L. V. - Play Here Tonight

There are some injuries from the Pass Christian battle but only one player appears as a doubtful starter. He is Clyde Favre who is suffering from a shoulder injury received in the Pass game.

The Tigers made their two touchdowns on long runs against O. L. V. Irwin Prevost, left half, scampered for 65 and 70 yards to score. Extra points were made by Martin Noto, right half, and T. Schultz, full back.

TWENTY FIVE YEARS OF SERVICE

Catholic and Protestants joined together on Wednesday and Thursday of this week to pay tribute to an outstanding citizen of Mississippi—a prince of the Catholic church, the Most Reverend Richard O. Gerow, Bishop of Natchez, on the occasion of his silver jubilee as diocesan head.

His Excellency throughout his tenure as Bishop, which began on Oct. 15, 1924, following his consecration by the Most Reverend Edward P. Allen, Bishop of Mobile, has led his flock with true Christian spirit. He has always sought to keep Christ in a place above all worldly ideals.

A native of Mobile, the son of a widowed mother, he received his high school education at McGill Institute. At the age of 16 he entered the seminary to study for the priesthood. He concluded his Theological studies and received his Doctorate of Sacred Theology from the North American college in Rome. He was ordained to the priesthood in the Holy City in 1909, and following his ordination was assigned as an assistant at the Cathedral in Mobile. He was later named Chancellor of the Diocese of Mobile and Rector of the Cathedral, which assignment he was holding when appointed Bishop of Natchez.

From the time of his ordination to the priesthood, Bishop Gerow has led many stray sheep back to the fold of the Great Shepherd. His constant zeal, friendliness and willingness to help those in spiritual need has made him truly a great priest. His courage, tolerance, humility and endurance has been an inspiration to the priests of his Diocese.

Since his installation as Bishop of Natchez, Catholicism has made marked advancement in this state, and its true ideals are being brought to the people of Mississippi by the priest of the diocese under his faithful guidance. Many new parishes have been established; the Catholic faith is being preached in sections of the state where priests had never set foot; new schools, hospitals and churches have been erected. The number of secular priests has more than doubled, while the number of priests of various religious orders has more than trebled in the last 25 years.

Bishop Gerow has been an ardent advocate of a native clergy resulting in a number of young men from our native state becoming Catholic priests, with many students yet in the seminary.

He has exerted much effort and time to the establishment of Catholic schools and churches for Negroes, and the result of his work has been noted in the increase in the number of Negro Catholics in Mississippi.

It is indeed gratifying to the people of the diocese of Natchez to be able to share in the great honor that has been conferred upon their distinguished leader. The spiritual and material benefits he has brought during his service to his church has been recorded in its annals, not to be overlooked in his eternal reward.

We wish to extend our best wishes to you, Most Reverend Bishop, with the hope that you will lead your flock to greater heights in years to come, continuing to instill in them a true Christian spirit. May we again witness another 25 years of progress with you, for you are truly a great leader filled with wisdom, tolerance, kindness and courage, which enables you to carry out God's work here on earth.

— UDELL FAVRE

LETTERS

To The Editor:

The total income of Hancock county from agriculture, livestock and forest resources is given at about six million dollars annually.

The same sources of information reveals that more than two million automobiles from out of state sources pass over Highway 90 each year. The AAA estimates that each car of tourists will spend a minimum of 15 dollars wherever they spend the day. With these figures as the basis we still argue the tourist crop is the most important financial crop available to the business interests of Bay St. Louis.

Leaving New Orleans, journeying east there is no recreation spot on the highway. There is nothing to appeal to the tourist until he reaches Biloxi where a bid is made for his dollars. It is about fifty-five miles from New Orleans to Bay St. Louis. It is eighty miles to Biloxi. If we had a beach, swimming, boats, fishing, etc., available where do you think the New Orleans vacationist would spend his dollars?

The man who really spends the money is not one who makes ten thousand dollars a year. There are not many of them and mostly they go to the Edgewater Gulf or else they head for Atlantic City.

The man we want to cater to in Bay St. Louis is the fellow who makes fifty to seventy-five dollars a week. There are thousands of these folks. They work hard and want their families to have a good time. They don't have lots of money but once every two or three months they lead up the jolopy with the team and kids and head for somewhere they can swim and roll on the sand. A little fishing is an added attraction. Especially if there are dressing rooms, restaurants, games for the children etc. This guy is willing to pay his way. He can and will spend thirty to fifty dollars on one day's vacation and if Bay St. Louis provided for it we would have an income from this source greater than the combined agricultural, livestock, dairy and timber returns. There is about ten million dollars of wealth invested in the present business of this county and it returns about six millions annually in living for its people. We can invest one hundred thousand dollars or less and have another income of several million.

You don't have to be a big business man to know this is true if you will visit other places where it is done. It just happens Bay St. Louis has the advantage of location over and above all other places on the Gulf. WHY DON'T WE USE IT?

Are we lacking in the initiative that business people have in other towns? Do we enjoy fighting and criticizing one another more than we would enjoy a prosperous business community? Can't we get together and do a little job like this one when it won't take much money and the reward is certainly large.

Incidentally the Publisher of the Echo has been most kind in continuing to give me space. I don't want to be a hog. Why don't some of the rest of you folks write a "piece for the paper." It doesn't matter who gets the credit, if all of us work together and put this development over there will be credit for all.

Sincerely,
LOUIS SCHWALL

Dear Mr. Favre:
I want to congratulate you on your R. E. A. special edition of the Sea Coast Echo. I have been a subscriber of this paper for the past twenty years and this issue was the best one I have seen during this time. The issue, with pictures and articles showing what electricity is doing to help our rural folks raise their standard of living, went to the 4400 members of our R. E. A. Co-op. I think the publicity you gave our annual meeting was one of the reasons that we had such a crowd at this meeting. It was by far one of the best meetings we have had.

JOHN S. REISTER
Piquette.

Dear Mr. Favre:
I received from County Agent, Howard Simmons a copy of your special REA edition of the Sea Coast Echo. Accept my congratulations upon this splendid issue.

Certainly you are featuring your two most basic agricultural enterprises—forestry and livestock. Your publication is wielding a great influence on the agricultural progress of your area which I am sure is appreciated by your people.

I greatly appreciate receiving your splendid publication and learning of the real progress which you are making.

With kindest regards and best wishes for your continued success, I am

Sincerely yours,
J. R. WILLIAMS,
District Agent.

NOTICE TO THE WAVELAND TAX PAYERS AND WAVELAND VOTERS

WHAT ARE THEY AFRAID OF?

Your present administration seems to be afraid of a state audit of their records. Can you tell me why?

If nothing is wrong, why do they try to block a state audit of their records?

Is it that the Mayor has too many relations on the payroll, and is afraid he will have to pay back to the Town of Waveland all monies paid to these relations which is a law violation?

Is it that Alderman Mollere is afraid that he will have to pay back all the monies received by Mollere's Service Station for supplying the town of Waveland with gasoline and tires for the past two or three years which is a law violation?

Is it that Alderman Hubbard is afraid that he will have to pay back to the Town of Waveland all the monies that he has received from the Town for supplying lumber from his lumber mill?

Why didn't the private auditors that were hired by this administration find all these law violations?

A petition was filed with the state auditor asking him to make an audit of the Town records. This petition was signed by one hundred and two qualified voters, and was certified and filed with the office of the state auditing department calling for a state audit. Why did they solicit and finally have ten of these signers write in to the state auditor and ask that their names be withdrawn from this petition? Those who withdrew their names after signing are as follows:

R. S. Nelson, Roger C. Bordages, John Ory Bourgeois, Mrs. Vital Bourgeois, Vital Bourgeois, John A. Ladner, Willie Bourgeois, Chris Ladner, Mrs. Chris Ladner and Tom Turcotte.

Please answer me, Mayor Ladner and your three Aldermen, what are you afraid of?

I am the Tax Collector of Waveland and handle some $35,000.00 annually and I am not afraid to have my books audited by the state auditor.

C. O'DUFOUR
Marshal & Tax Collector, Waveland, Miss.

SERVING the Gulf South

...by building for the FUTURE

Every business man who hopes to stay in business knows that he must plan for the future. More customers and greater demands for his products or services make it continually necessary for him to expand and improve his facilities. That's why United Gas, in an effort to meet a constantly increasing demand for natural gas service, is investing 30 million dollars this year in construction and development of its facilities. Much of this money is being invested in Mississippi. A large part of the money spent for expansion moves immediately into the channels of trade in the Gulf South, which is another example of the way the American Business System works to bring better living to your community.

Foresters Hold First Field Day J. B. Snider Speaks

"An abundance of timber is essential to national security and to local welfare," former Lieutenant-governor J. B. "Billy" Snider said at the first South Mississippi Forestry Field Day Thursday, October 6.

As principal speaker of the day, Snider addressed some 200 people from nine counties who had congregated at the Harrison county Experiment Forest seven miles south-east of Saucier.

Pointing out that wealth from forests is not measured by mere stumpage returns, the speaker said, "It is measured by the pay-checks of labor required to manufacture, transport, and merchandise the multitudinous products made from wood; and by the taxes that productive land, industry and trade can pay."

"America cannot remain strong and prosperous," he said, "if we destroy the productive capacity of the forest lands."

"We must rebuild our forest resources and perpetuate them by wise use. In years to come it may well be that the South must grow the bulk of the nation's timber," the former lieutenant governor concluded.

The field day at which Snider spoke was sponsored by individual banks in the coastal area, including the Hancock Bank; by industries and individuals interested in the development of forestry; by the Mississippi State Forest Service; and the federal forest agency.

Highlights of the program were a "show me" field trip in the foreman, a free barbecue lunch at noon, and a demonstration of tree planting and fire fighting equipment.

Hermes Gautier, state representative from Pascagoula, told about the numerous ways in which wood enters into our daily lives and stressed the need for restoring our forest lands to full productivity.

"One of our first major needs," he declared, "is to secure adequate, state-wide forest fire protection."

Also during the program P. N. Howells was presented the first Annual South Mississippi Forestry award for his work in this field. The presentation was made by Mr. Snider.

Howells spoke on the history and early development in the field of forestry in Mississippi.

Among the Hancock county citizens going to the field day besides Snider were Howard Simmons, county agent, Roland Weston, Coney Weston and Norton Haas.

F. P. "Dutch" Ansler, Harrison county agent, served as master of ceremonies and introduced the guests.

COUNTY AGENT'S NOTES

Molasses Good Corn Substitute Cuts Cost To Less Than Half

By Howard F. Simmons

The United States Department of Agriculture says that feeders can buy 16 to 17 gallons of molasses for the price of a bushel of corn—or about 187 pounds of molasses for the same money it takes to buy 56 pounds of corn. During the past 20 years, the average has been 8 gallons of molasses for the price of a bushel of corn.

Research and experience show that, when used in large amounts, molasses has 60 to 65% of the feeding value of corn and when, used in small amounts to increase palatability of rations, molasses may have almost pound for pound value with grain. Even at the lower valuation, molasses now costs less than half as much as corn on a gain-producing basis.

Because molasses is very low in protein and phosphorus, the need for supplementing it with cottonseed meal, which is rich in both, is even greater than with grains, feeding authorities point out.

Florida Range Cattle Experiment Station found that adding cottonseed meal to free-choice pasture and molasses feeding increases the rate of gain and appetite; produced more finish and a higher-selling carcass; and reduced the amount of feed required per pound of gain.

Molasses may be mixed with other concentrates at the time of feeding or it may be mixed with one or two times its weight of water and sprinkled on the roughage ration. For any livestock, increase molasses gradually in the ration to avoid digestive troubles. Fattening steers may be self-fed molasses from a trough after they are accustomed to eating 5 to 6 pounds daily.

A good daily ration for yearling steers on full-feed is: 5 pounds of ground grain, 6 pounds of molasses, 3 pounds of cottonseed meal, 10 pounds of cottonseed hulls and 2 pounds of hay. Older cattle may be fattened economically on a ration of: 3 pounds of cottonseed meal, 10 lbs. of molasses, 15 pounds of cottonseed hulls and 2 pounds of hay.

For wintering the beef breeding herd, a protein concentrate is best but molasses is good to add to the ration when grazing is not ample and coarse roughages are fed. Florida tests show that cottonseed meal gave better results than molasses to supplement dry pasture or non-legume roughage. Pouring 3 to 5 pounds of molasses over the daily roughage rations adds energy value and increases consumption of roughage.

For dairy cows, molasses is satisfactorily used up to 1/4 of the concentrate mixture. When cows are on poor pasture and cottonseed hulls or other non-legume roughage, feed 1/4 of a pint of molasses and 3 pounds of mixture of equal parts of ground grain and cottonseed meal for each gallon of milk produced. If pasture is excellent or ample legume hay is fed, feed 1/4 of a pint of molasses and 2 pounds of a mixture of 1 part of cottonseed meal and 2 parts of grain for each gallon of milk produced.

For fattening lambs, molasses may make up 1/3 of the concentrate mixture. Care should be taken to keep molasses out of the wool.

Molasses is best for work stock when replacing not more than 1/4 of the grain. Larger amounts may cause excessive sweating and a "winded" condition. Hogs weighing over 10 pounds may have 10 to 20% of their grain ration replaced by molasses.
